Gianna C. Signorille is an Associate at Bartko Pavia LLP in the Litigation and Labor & Employment Practices. Gianna has successfully counseled clients in all states of litigation in federal and state courts and also helps clients avoid litigation, subscribing to the principle that litigation begins long before the court filing.

Gianna has experience in advising clients on a full range of legal issues, including class actions, trade secret, antitrust, and employment matters.

At New York Law School, Gianna was a member of the Moot Court Association. She was the 2020 National Association of Women Lawyers Honoree. Prior to law school, Gianna graduated from Stony Brook University where she received her undergraduate degree in Psychology.

Gianna serves as the Vice Chair of the Young Professionals Society at Girls Inc. where she advocates for girls' rights in their local and national communities.

Gianna is also an active member of the Young Professionals Network for the Tunnel to Towers Foundation, an organization which helps veterans and first responders by providing housing, financial assistance, and support services and Gianna remains an active volunteer at New York Law School's STREET Law Program, which provides law-based curriculum to high school students in public high schools.
