Edrik Mehrabi is a Senior Associate at Bartko Pavia LLP and in the Labor & Employment Practice. With nearly a decade of experience representing both employers and employees, Edrik brings a well-rounded and strategic perspective to labor and employment law. He has successfully handled a broad range of litigation matters including, wrongful termination, discrimination, harassment, retaliation, wage and hour disputes, and employment contract claims, among others, in both state and federal courts.

Edrik also served as a Counsel at SAG-AFTRA, where he gained deep insight into union and entertainment industry labor matters. There, he also gained experience working through a major industry strike and participated in high-stakes collective bargaining negotiations. This experience deepened his understanding of union dynamics, labor relations, and the complexities of contract enforcement in high-profile, high-pressure environments.

Now back in private practice, Edrik advises clients across California on compliance with state and federal employment laws. He provides practical, tailored counsel on employee relations, workplace policies, internal investigations, and litigation strategy. Whether representing a business navigating legal risk or an individual facing workplace challenges, Edrik is dedicated to delivering clear guidance, strong advocacy, and solutions to ensure his clients' business needs are met and left uninterrupted.
