

BARTKO PAVIA TO PARTNER WITH CIRCE: BUILT TO LAST – AN INTERNATIONAL WOMEN’S DAY PARTY

Events

23, February 2026

On March 4, 2026, from 5:00–9:00 PM, Bartko Pavia LLP will proudly host and sponsor Circe: Built to Last — An International Women’s Day Celebration at our San Francisco office.

Circe is a growing Bay Area community connecting and elevating women founders, investors, and operators. Designed to move beyond traditional networking, the evening will center on leadership, capital access, resilience, and building companies that endure.

The program begins with curated introductions, followed by a welcome and keynote conversation on the realities of building and leading. Guests will then move between themed activation rooms focused on startup fundamentals, investor visibility, founder sustainability, and candid discussions around co-founder and leadership dynamics.

As a powerhouse litigation and transactional firm, Bartko Pavia represents plaintiffs and defendants in high-stakes commercial disputes, real estate transactions, class actions, antitrust matters, labor and employment litigation, and bet-the-company cases. The firm combines elite legal talent with a client-focused, service-oriented culture that prioritizes practical business solutions over conventional law firm metrics. With numerous former in-house counsel and business leaders on our team, we bring real-world experience to the companies and investors we advise.

Partnering with Circe for this event at our San Francisco office reflects our commitment to the Bay Area innovation community and to creating spaces where leaders, especially women in tech and finance, can connect and move their ideas forward.
