

IN THE NAME OF THE FATHER

Publications

20, April 2016

Looted Art – An auction of three paintings, which were long in possession of a museum, will divide the art world. Embarrassingly late, these pieces were revealed as looted art. They belong to the heirs of the legendary publisher Mosse family, who are claiming back hundreds of more pieces.

View a PDF of the article.

RELATED SERVICES

Litigation