Bartko Pavia is proud to announce that partner Oliver Dunlap has been appointed the 2021 Chair of the Conference of California Bar Associations (CCBA, formally known as the Conference of Delegates). Oliver previously served on the CCBA Board as Secretary. His appointment comes following many years as a distinguished delegate to the Conference, where he successfully authored several state bills and served as the Chair of the Bar Association of San Francisco's delegation.

CCBA is one of California's premier legislative entities, comprised of hundreds of attorneys and bar associations from across the state. Delegates to the Conference represent all practice areas, and are drawn from in-house, government, and private practice attorneys, both plaintiff and defense counsel, and both the bench and bar. Together, they draft, vet, and lobby for important changes to all California laws. And, together, CCBA typically has more of its draft legislation passed each year than any other organization in the state.
